“Resonance Repatterning® is a process that makes it possible for us to create positive change in any part of our life where we experience limitation.”                 Chloe Faith Wordsworth, founder

This fun, highly interactive training teaches you an easy to learn process for extraordinary outcomes. You will learn how to:

* Muscle check yourself and others for what will energize you
* Spiral up to a higher state of energy, well-being and coherence
* Transform your problems into opportunities
* Create positive change for yourself and others using specific tools such as sound, color, movement, and breathing patterns
* Identify and transform negative conscious and unconscious resonance patterns
